

Coffin Cooke, who make an unctions thing out of a meagre opportunity as Autolyous.

"Salamambo," a rather creaky vehicle, has been here before, and was in all respects inferior to the Shakespearean production.

Soloists—Mrs. Luella Ferrin Sharp and Mr.
George E. Skelton.

The management of Held's band was particularly fortunate on Sunday evening in the selection of soloists, Miss Etelka Masters of Denver and Charles Stalder, the baritone, rendering a number of selections which were very pleasing to the large audience which attended the concert. The band was up to the usual high standard set by that fine organization, receiving repeated encores on several of the selected numbers.

The many friends of John Held will be pleased to hear that he has almost entirely recovered from the effects of his late illness and will be at his desk as usual in a few days.

The Christmas numbers of the leading weeklies in the country were very attractive this season, and those worth special mention were the Argonaut, The Mirror, Town Talk and Town Topics.

The New Yorker made no special effort to publish an enlarged edition, but it is quickly assuming a permanent place among the cleverest periodicals in the east.

One of the cleverest colored covers seen during the holidays was entitled "A Flat-Head Christmas Stocking," and was published by "The Missoulian," at Missoula, Mont.

The Colorado Springs Gazette and Telegraph published a New Year's number that was a great credit to the city.
